The drawing process humanization

Processon focused on the process itself, hardly needs to consider how to draw flow chart effects, do not even need to select from the toolbar style

Makes you feel is not a Web-side APP

Although it is a Web application, but Processon very complete support for shortcut keys, and shortcut key used the Office settings habits.

Don't think that's just a flow chart

Not just flowcharts, all process nodes can be carefully an assignment field. Details determine success or failure!

See you next week.
